

ISSUE 2
FEB 02

HAYDOCK HERALD

BECAUSE SOMEBODY'S GOT TO DO IT

FREE PAPER

HELLO

Welcome to the second edition of The Haydock Herald. More of the same really.

£100 WINNERS

Congratulations to the three drivers who won £100 in J.S. vouchers (cash equivalent £19.77) for outstanding service throughout December. Not bad for four weeks work eh?

It would however be appreciated if they could spend their vouchers as soon as possible. Every little bit helps.

TOWN PLANNER SACKED

It is believed that a man has lost his job in town planning following the unprecedented fiasco of the new gatehouse traffic light system.

In his defence he is quoted as saying "So what! Do you fucking want some then?"

TRAINING

If anybody can think of anything else that they could possibly be trained for could you please notify your line manager and we'll see what we can do. Thank you.

MISSING PERSONS

Anne Marie Holding – As we said last issue, the search for Anne Marie would be cut very short. However, fears are growing that despite this lack of enthusiasm she will still return some day.

J.S. Pensions Advisor – Fears are also growing for the safety of this anonymous individual as nobody is quite sure whether or not they actually exist.

Common Sense – It is believed that Common Sense can no longer be found in the depot. Some drivers said that they had heard of it but didn't really know where to find it. Other drivers said that even if they did find it, they wouldn't be allowed to use it anyway.

Management said they'd never heard of it and therefore weren't likely to look for it.

The Union said that they were fully aware of what it is and where it is but they weren't going to tell anybody.

If anybody does see Common Sense in the depot they are advised to steer well clear of it as it could be dangerous.

SHUNTERS WANTED

Interviews will shortly be held for the vacant positions as shunters. As usual however, all applicants must realise that despite being interviewed for the post, they haven't got a cat in hell's chance of getting it because its already been sorted. Thanks anyway though.

HAYDOCK HERALD

END PROPOGANDA SAYS BUSH

TRANSFER OF UNDERTAKINGS

J.S. are said to be looking forward to taking control of transport at last. One source said “We are looking forward to taking control of transport at last.”

THANKS TO J.S.

What a great piece of P.R. from our soon to be employers. The free sample mince pies were a joy to behold, and what’s more there was even free coffee to go with them.

You know sometimes it doesn’t really seem so bad after all does it?

SITUATIONS VACANT

WANTED: Due to a recent change in circumstances, we at Haydock are now looking for people who are dynamic and enthusiastic. They must be multi talented and willing to accept a challenge. Uppermost however, they must be able to

1. Fuck everything up without fail.
2. Not listen to advice.
3. Come up with stupid suggestions.
4. Piss everybody off.
5. Disappear without trace in a crisis.

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL CHURCH

M.T.S.

It seems like a lifetime ago that M.T.S. first reared it’s ugly head, but so smooth has been its implementation that it has almost passed unnoticed. Amazing how a ground breaking system such as this can get off the ground without so much as a hiccup.

One source for Sainsbury’s said “Well it’s not the best £20million we’ve ever spent is it? . . . erm. . . oh. . . . err. . . that’s wrong, it is the best £20million we’ve ever spent. . . I meant it is.”

A source at M.T.S. said “Are you taking the piss? I don’t even work here. Even if I did it isn’t my fault.”

In order to improve its already impressive image, M.T.S. are running an acronym competition with the top prize being some more J.S. vouchers. (This does not affect your rights to claim your £50 hush money. Sorry . . . Isotrak payment.)

Two early entrants from Drivers were:

1. Morons Talking Stupid
2. Mustn’t Talk Sense.

So see if you can do any better. The closing date for entrants is irrelevant as we’ll probably lose them all anyway.

OBITUARIES

Our dearly beloved and sorely missed friends are remembered at this time:

1. Regular drivers’ meetings. R.I.P.
2. Sutherlands–Alfreton–Whitefield. R.I.P.
3. Isotrak payments. R.I.P.

NEXT ISSUE: Haydock’s own Agony Aunt, Auntie Mirtle attempts to solve all your problems.

