BECAUSE SOMEBODY'S GOT TO DO IT

GREETINGS AGAIN

There is so much expectation now that I can't take the pressure. The more I do it the harder it gets. Whoever keeps nicking the Herald from the notice board pack it in. If you want your own copy download it off the website.

NEW PERIOD OF CO-OPERATION

Management have requested that we enter into a period of driver/management co-operation which will necessitate a bit of give and take. This will take the form shown below.

WE:	THEY:
Give our help	Take the piss
Give an inch	Take a mile
Give up our time	Take advantage
Give in	Take you for a ride
Give our opinion	Take no notice
Give in your notice	Take exception
Give a smile	Take a swipe
Give in a holiday form	Take their time
Give resistance	Take you to the cleaners

DON'T QUOTE ME ON THAT

1. Jackie - When Duncan took a pen instead of a set of keys - "If you can start a wagon with that Duncan, you're a better man than me."
2. Steve Ollerenshaw - ordering Viagra from Paul Ruddy - (a) "It's not for me, it's for a mate."
(b) "Does it prolong it?"

TRAINING

"You must train them to use tail lifts Graham."
"Yes master. I will train them well."
"Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha!"

TIME WASTING

It has been brought to our attention that Drivers have taken to wasting time while hiding in the toilets. To counter this disruptive action we will be moving them into the traffic office by the debrief desk. Paper will be made available but it must be signed for. A spokesperson for Sainsburys said "Right, that's it. You've got 5 minutes to pack up all your shit and get off my property before I call the Police."

OLLERENSHAW IN FLACID SHOCKER

DEAR MIRTLE: It's not for me, it's for a mate.

DEAR STEVE: I'm afraid that the first step in solving any problem is to first acknowledge that the problem exists and that it is yours. I can see that you are almost at this point because the last step before private acceptance is public denial. Don't worry Steve, after all, the only difference between being impotent and being important is a spelling mistake. P.S. Don't sue the Herald because you'd never get it to stand up in court.

ONE TO ONE MEETINGS

We at Sainsburys feel it is imperative that we get to know you all on a more personal level. That is why we have set up a system of one to one meetings where we will certainly get to know you. We will soon glean every last scrap of information we can in any way we see fit and discuss it at great length with you.

Non conformists will be experimented upon with controversial new drugs and strung from the gantry with piano wire until they accede to our demands. You vill comply you svines! Alles singen mit mir: "DEUTSCHLAND UBER ALLES! OOMPA OOMPA OOMPA!"

MIRTLE TALKS BACK

Hello to all my loyal fans. I don't know where the cheeky bastard at the Haydock Herald dug up that picture of me from but it must be an old one. I think it was from before I started shopping at Sainsburys and eating Be Good To Yourself meals. This is me now. Look, you can see my clout.

AFTER

BIG BROTHER

As you are all aware, the third series of Big Brother will begin soon so you may notice workmen erecting cameras around the depot. They will be placed in the foliage, in skirting boards, in air vents and behind light fittings. Please do not be alarmed as we won't show everything on TV but we do need to be able to see you at all times.

You may recall that the first series was almost won by a lesbian and the second series was won by a homosexual man. Bets are on for the winner of series three. DAY ONE IN THE SAINSBURYS BIG BRUTHA HOOS. WHO GOES? YOU DECIDE.

The planned series of Survivor also to be held in Haydock has been scrapped due to the extreme harshness of conditions.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Are you confident? Ready for a challenge? Work well alone or in groups? Can you motivate people? Want to be the best? Are you dynamic, experienced and qualified?

If so please make yourself known to the Human Resources Department (formerly known as Personnel). Your resignation will be accepted without delay. Sorry for the mix up. You weren't supposed to slip through the net.

Sorry!

MEDICINE FAMINE

Local doctors are fearing the worst with regards to a new drug scare. They fear a shortage of many popular brands of medicines, and think that a surge in the price of prescriptions will inevitably follow. The cause of this mini crisis is the transport department as Haydock drivers are told that they shouldn't need a break unless they are on medication. Drivers are being asked not to panic and stockpile common drugs or rationing may be introduced.

Should rationing need to be implemented

there are certain measures that should be taken by all drivers to aid the distribution effort. Management have said that "A return to war-like conditions wouldn't necessarily be a bad thing!"

While working for Sainsburys in our time of need you will be expected to comply with at least all seven of the following measures.

- 1) You must give your time freely
- 2) You should sell your car and buy a bike
- 3) You should sell your house and buy a smaller one
- 4) You should give up expensive hobbies
- 5) You may not have any more children
- 6) You should buy supermarkets' own brands
- 7) You should learn to cook with powdered egg

GORDON BURNS RETURNS WITH

THE CRAPPED ON FACTOR

You've seen the TV show and sat there thinking, "I could do that it's easy." Well now is your chance to prove it.

ROUND 1 – A test of your manual dexterity, hand-eye co-ordination and physical fitness.

What you must do without warning is clear your desk of all your possessions and leave site within fifteen minutes.

ROUND 2 – A test of your intellectual skills. You must solve the following mental problem.

A person is contracted to work for 45 hours per week.
That same person is guaranteed to be paid for 8 hours per day.
They can be rotad for 13 hours per day.
They may be asked to work for 15 hours per day.
WHY?

ROUND 3 – The final round. A test of your physical ability, co-ordination and mental aptitude.

What you must do is reverse a 45ft long 8ft wide 13ft 6 high trailer into a store built for rigid vehicles. While doing so you must not hit any parked cars, skips, trays, containers, boards, bales, roll pallets (full or otherwise), fridges, pedestrians, walls, gates or gateposts, compactors, fences, lamp posts, road signs, kerbs, canopies, cages, bread stacks, bollards or low flying aircraft.

PRIZE - The winner will be highly rewarded but is clearly too good for us and will not be forced to work their notice period. We would like to take this opportunity to wish the victor all the best for the future. No hard feelings eh?

P.S. Please clock out for the Prize giving ceremony, thank you.

NEXT ISSUE: Your personal column. Looking for him? Looking for her? Looking for it? Well, you never know your luck. Next time in your Haydock Herald.
